

Debt Ceiling Plea by Ike Past One Hurdle

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's late-hour proposal to boost the federal debt ceiling to $200 billion cleared its first congressional hurdle today. The House Ways and Means Committee approved it 17-6.

It was the first step in a tense, rapid-fire drive by administration forces to push across the storm-provoking request in the closing hours of days of this congressional session.

House leaders planned to rush the bill through the Rules Committee and seek a House vote later today. Republican chiefs confidently predicted—and Democrats generally agreed—it would sail through overwhelmingly.

But there is fierce opposition in the Senate, and the issue threw a cloud of doubt over plans to adjourn Congress this week. However, there were signs at least some of the Senate opposition to the president's plea was wavering.

Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R-N.Y.) announced the House committee voted approval for a bill, drafted by him, to increase the debt ceiling from $275 to $290 billion dollars. The action came after Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and Budget Director Joseph Dodge presented the administration's case in a closed meeting.

By DONALD SANDERS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate House agreement on the foreign aid budget early today removed one of the last remaining barriers to adjournment of Congress, but President Eisenhower's delayed request for a boost in the federal debt limit clouded the picture.

Administration leaders in the House foresaw no obstacle there to passage of a bill to hike the debt ceiling by $15 billion dollars to $290 billion. But in the Senate, there was glum talk that the session might have to be prolonged into next week.

Acting Republican Leader Knowland of California said he wanted to reserve judgment on when Congress could quit for the year. Before the debt limit request, he had been aiming at tonight. His Democratic counterpart, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, spoke of postponing adjournment temporarily.

A Senate-House conference committee worked until past midnight to reach a compromise agreement on a $6,652,422,390 foreign aid money bill. Although there was some grumbling among the House conferees, Chairman Taber (R-N.Y.) of the Appropriations Committee said that "Why, certainly," the House would accept it. Final Senate okay is also needed.

The total amount is $699,315,868 less than Eisenhower asked. It includes $4,330,457,999 in new cash and $2,321,964,391 in authority to spend funds appropriated by previous Congresses and not yet obligated.

Reds to Free 400 Prisoners on Wednesday

TOKYO, Saturday, (UP)—Peiping radio said today the first group of 400 United Nations prisoners of war to be returned next Wednesday will include "a good number" of Americans.

The Chinese Communists broadcast heard here said the first group will include all non-Korean sick and wounded.

It will also include most of the French, Turkish, Colombian, Philippine, Australian and Greek POWs, Peiping said.

A good number of American and British POWs are also among the first to be repatriated," the Red radio said.

The Allied prisoners will move south from stockades along the Yalu river by train, Peiping said. Six-hundred Chinese prisoners of war already were waiting in a stockade near Panmunjom.

The broadcast named only three of the prisoners who will ride on the first convoy.

They were two Americans—Samuel S. Thomas, a medic, and a Robert Gleason—and British prisoner Elbert Campbell. Their ranks and hometowns were not given.

The official "voice" of Red China said British, French, Turkish and other non-Korean captives also had been advised to get ready for the trip.

Peiping radio said the first convoy "soon" would start rolling down the old "freedom highway" from Pyongyang, on the shores of the Yalu river's great Suho reservoir, to this truce village.

They were expected to arrive in the Communist base camp at Kaesong shortly before the scheduled Aug. 5 start of "operation Big Switch," the exchange of 12,000 Allied prisoners for 74,000 North Korean and Chinese held by the United Nations.

The Peiping description of life in a Communist prison camp sounded something like a press agent's copy on exclusive summer resorts.

In poetic phrases, the broadcast said the first prisoners to be repatriated were "wined and dined" last night.

"Beautifully decorated clubrooms were turned into dining halls," it said. "The (Chinese) P. C. P.'s volunteers and prisoners of war drank and shouted 'long live peace' and toasted those who had worked hard for the success of the Korean armistice."

West Berlin Promises Food to Everyone

By JOSEPH FLEMING
BERLIN (UP)—The West Berlin city government announced today it is ready to give "Eisenhower food packages" to every one of East Germany's 16,000,000 residents.

Original plans called for distribution of only 1,000,000 food parcels to hungry Soviet zone residents.

The announcement was made by a West Berlin government spokesman as the United States rushed food by trucks, trains and planes under the $15,000,000 (M) relief program.

So many hundreds of thousands of hungry East Germans have flooded into the West since the start of the two-week program last Monday that the spokesman said:

"We now are ready to issue every East German a food package."

An estimated 200,000 persons defied arrest, confiscation of the packages, violence by Communist "goon" squads and other intimidation tactics to pour into West Berlin again today.

They boosted the total seeping food for the five days of the program to about 800,000.

But the number was expected to soar well over 1,000,000 this week and when tens of thousands of workers band together to protect themselves against Communist terror are scheduled to start their "hunger march."

The march of these tough workers who led the June 17 revolt and strikes against the Communist government could set off a new zone-wide revolt if Red policy try to stop them.

In a vain effort to stem the tide of hungry East Germans crossing into West Berlin for food, Communist "goon" squads resorted to violence.

Strong-arm gangs waited at crossing points in the Soviet sector of Berlin and attacked returning East Germans. The Red thugs tried to snatch the food parcels and identify papers of the returnees.

The violent tactics were adopted after threats of reprisals and prison failed to dim the defiance of Soviet zone residents, some of whom traveled hundreds of miles to get the food unavailable to them at home.

Ike Not to Sign Theater Tax Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was reported by a Republican senator today to have reached a reluctant decision not to sign a bill to wipe out the 20 per cent movie admission tax.

Congress passed the measure a week ago. It would cost the Treasury an estimated 100 million dollars a year in revenue.

Merchants Ask Return to Old Parking Law

The Retail Merchant's Committee of the Hope Chamber of Commerce held a call meeting in the Chamber of Commerce office Thursday afternoon at 2:30 p.m.

Chairman Hall presided with some 20 merchants present.

The meeting opened with a discussion of the latest parking meter regulation passed by the Hope City Council. After considerable discussion of the effects on the out-of-town customers of Hope and a discussion of several alternate proposals, the Retail Merchants voted unanimously a resolution to be handed to the City Council to repeal the latest parking meter regulation and adopt the system which was in effect at the time the new ruling was made.

The group recognizes that some few instances of disregard for the spirit of the parking meter regulation do occur and that any system will occasionally be imposed upon.

U. S. Lost 1,000 Planes in Korea

TOKYO, (AP)—Far East Air Forces said today it lost 1,000 warplanes behind Red lines in the Korean War, 20 less than the number of Red planes destroyed.

FEAF did not include Allied losses behind U. N. lines.

FEAF said it lost 110 planes in aerial duels, 667 to Red ground fire and 213 to "other causes" usually engine failure.

It said 58 U. S. Sabre jets were lost in the 3-year conflict while blasting 900 Red MIG jets from the skies, a ratio of almost 14 to 1.

Russians Shot Down U. S. Plane Says Airmen

TOKYO, (AP)—An American airmen rescued from the sea a few miles off Siberia said his B-50 bomber was shot down by Russian fighters, Gen. O. P. Weyland, Far East Air Force commander, said tonight.

Moscow said yesterday two Soviet fighters exchanged shots with a B-50 over Vladivostok.

Capt. John E. Roche of Washington, D. C., told Weyland the bomber was shot down shortly after 6:15 a.m. about 40 miles off the Russian coast.

Weyland said he personally interviewed the rescued co-pilot. Roche was snatched from the picking, after having been in the water 11 hours and spending another 11 hours in a boat dropped by a search plane.

Weyland's headquarters said Roche was in good physical condition and had only bruises on his head and face suffered when he landed out of the bomber.

The plane carried 16 other crewmen. The search for more survivors was abandoned today.

The United States has information that Soviet vessels picked up a number of survivors from the U. S. B-50 plane shot down by Russian fighters off Siberia, it was disclosed today.

The State Department announced it has protested to Moscow against the shooting down of the B-50 and asked "an immediate report" from Russian authorities on the condition of the survivors and plans for releasing them.

Little Rock Group to Visit Hope Aug. 6

A group of Little Rock business executives who feel that the best way to get acquainted with Hope and Hempstead County business and professional people is to go out and meet them will visit here next Thursday afternoon (August 6).

Hope will be one of more than 15 stops made by the Little Rock group on a two-day, 330-mile "Get Acquainted" tour of Southwestern Arkansas cities and towns.

The tour is sponsored by the Wholesale Committee of the Greater Little Rock Chamber of Commerce.

In a statement to the Daily Star Committee Chairman H. J. Rogers said that the main purpose of the visit would be to give Little Rock, Hope and Hempstead County business men an opportunity to get acquainted.

"Only by knowing each other better can Arkansas business people appreciate what each has to offer," Rogers added. "We want to explain how your local and county retailers can realize greater profit by making use of the facilities of the more than 700 wholesale and manufacturing firms in Greater Little Rock. We want to find out how we can help your Hope and Hempstead County business."

Little Rock business men, Rogers said, were very impressed by the fact that Hempstead County's 1952 retail sales totaled $16,227,000 and that the effective net buying income per Hope family was $3,544, and the effective buying income per Hempstead County family was $2,542.

"Hempstead County is indeed an excellent and growing retail market," Rogers said. "Our wholesale want to know your retailers better. We are sure that they appreciate the fact that the dollars they spend with Greater Little Rock wholesalers remain in Arkansas; that the taxes paid by Greater Little Rock wholesalers help build better roads, help make possible the many enjoyed by all Hempstead County citizens."

The Little Rock group will arrive by bus at approximately 3:40 p.m. and will depart 30 minutes later. The bus will be parked in the central portion of the business district.

One Injured In Accident Here

An auto truck accident at the Rocky Mound road and Highway 67 and 4 intersection at 7:45 o'clock last night resulted in one person being injured and the arrest of one driver.

Investigating City police said a vehicle driven by J. W. Harris, Prescott Negro, hit a pickup driven by Jimmie Dick Hammons even though the latter vehicle had stopped completely.

Mr. Republican, Sen. Robert A. Taft, Taken by Death at Age of 63

Odds Strangely Against Mr. Republican in Four Battles and He Finally Lost Them All

By UNITED PRESS

Robert Alphonso Taft — son of a president and chief justice of the United States — had the odds strangely against him in his three greatest political battles and, finally, in his fight for life. He lost all four.

It was Taft's fate to stand for conservatism in times of radical political change. Twice the Republican party astonished itself and others by reaching outside its organization limits for a presidential candidate in preference to Mr. Republican himself.

The Republicans in 1940 chose Wendell L. Willkie, a recent Democrat, Wall Street lawyer and entrepreneur, in preference to Taft as its presidential nominee. The odds against such a choice would have been 100 to 1 three months prior to the 1940 Republican national convention.

Taft stepped aside in 1944 for his fellow Ohioan, Sen. John W. Dewey. But he lost the nomination to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York but caught the tail end of the most disappointing Republican ticket since the founding of the party. Dewey again won the nomination from Taft in 1948—and again lost the election.

Taft's year was to be 1952. But out of the armed services stepped Dwight D. Eisenhower, whose latest voting registration had been as an independent, to seize the nomination. That was Taft's last chance.

The Malady which killed him is understood now to have already afflicted Taft as he campaigned hard before the 1952 Republican national convention. But a handful of doctors failed to tell it. If they had the man from Ohio might have been spared the last long which ended in the Chicago Sockyards where the GOP made its choice.

Taft evidently was a doomed man (though neither he nor anyone else knew it) when a few minutes after the last Chicago roll call he pledged support to the presidential nominee and, more than that, to the eternal welfare of the Republican Party. He was carrying out that pledge up to June 10 when a shocked Senate learned Taft had delivered the party leadership to Sen. William F. Knowland, of California, because his own physical condition would no longer support the hard work.

From that point it was all down hill — statement of plans following statement of plans, an each postponing the day when Taft might be expected back on the Senate floor or, even, out of his hospital room. The grave nature of his disease finally was discerned by diagnoses at New York hospital.

It can be told now that when he was informed of the gravity of his condition he took it on the chin with a smile, forbade his doctors to tell his family and spoke to them about his life:

"You will have in me the most willing guinea pig you ever had. I am wholly in your hands. And I shall learn about this disease until I know all about it so that I can report to you faithfully every symptom I can observe."

State Collects
Record in Taxes
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A record high of $2,708,269 in gasoline taxes was collected by the Arkansas Revenue Department last month.

Revenue Commissioner Horace Thompson said yesterday the gasoline tax collections exceeded last month's receipts by $420,000 and were $122,000 higher than the previous record set last October.

Total collections from all tax sources in July were $6,590,447—an increase of $1,100,000 over receipts for July, 1952.

Amounts from other tax sources: Sales, $2,534,512; auto license, $2,146,555; severance tax, $262,353; cigarette taxes $665,344; franchise, $336,279; income, $240,440; beer $160,450; liquor $235,265.

Red General Holds Power in Russia

LONDON, (AP)—Reports that a trio of Russian war-horn marshals under the famed Georgi K. Zhukov has taken over real power in the Soviet Union were studied here today.

The Evening News said Prime Minister Churchill had been informed. The Foreign Office declined comment.

Fearful that he could not maintain his grip in the wake of the purge of Interior Minister L. P. Beria, the paper says, Premier Georgi M. Malenkov turned in desperation to the professional soldiers of the Soviet army who now are the "power behind the throne."

The article in Thursday night's edition of Lord Rothermere's newspaper was signed by its diplomatic correspondent, C. F. Melville, who said he understood Sir Winston was "so impressed by reports of a takeover of power by a military pro-peace group that he is about to redouble his efforts to get an early sound-bite between the Russian and Western heads of government."

"His death," the bulletin said, "was the result of widespread, highly malignant, rapidly growing tumors." The senator also developed a severe anemia requiring many transfusions.

"However, the disease could not be controlled permanently," the bulletin added.

One of the first to express sorrow was former President Truman, whose "Fair Deal" Taft had fought but whose friendship he had retained.

"His death is a great loss to the country," Truman said. "We need intellectually honest men like Senator Taft in public service."

Taft's death removed from the political scene the key figure supporting President Eisenhower in the Senate and a tower of strength in the first Republican administration since the early 1930's.

The hospital bulletin said: "Senator Taft's life came to an end quietly, without pain, at 11:30 a. m. July 31, 1953."

"His death was the result of widespread, highly malignant, rapidly growing tumors, the first symptoms of which were pains in the leg later located in the left hip. These symptoms had their onset in the latter part of April, 1953, and in the beginning were very obscure."

Cancer Ends Historic, Long Senate Career

By BARBARA BUNDSCHE

NEW YORK (UP)—Robert Alphonso Taft of Ohio, one of the great figures in the history of the United States Senate, died today of malignant tumors at the height of his career as a public servant.

The 63-year-old "Mr. Republican" whose party thrice denied him his highest ambition — to run for the presidency his father William Howard Taft had held — died quietly at 11:30 a. m. EDT in New York hospital.

Taft died without pain, the hospital bulletin said. At the hospital were his four sons, his wife Martha — the vivacious, phrase-making member of the political team of "Bob and Martha" — was in Washington.

A wheel-chair invalid, Mrs. Taft, who suffered a stroke three years ago, visited her husband Tuesday but returned home. Her own illness prevented her from bearing the strain of watching her husband's life slip away gradually.

Taft, whose illness first made it self apparent with pains in the leg last April, entered the hospital here July 4 and underwent an exploratory abdominal operation four days later. His condition suddenly took a turn for the worse late yesterday.

He fell into a coma shortly before 11 p. m., and apparently never roused from it.

Dr. Claude B. Forkner, the attending physician who is a specialist in leukemia, said in the death bulletin that the disease "progressed relentlessly in spite of the application of all the therapeutic weapons available to modern science."

"His death," the bulletin said, "was the result of widespread, highly malignant, rapidly growing tumors." The senator also developed a severe anemia requiring many transfusions.

"However, the disease could not be controlled permanently," the bulletin added.

One of the first to express sorrow was former President Truman, whose "Fair Deal" Taft had fought but whose friendship he had retained.

"His death is a great loss to the country," Truman said. "We need intellectually honest men like Senator Taft in public service."

Buyers in wheat reflected a firm tone in late and oil markets.

Wheat was subjected to a series of selling despite an increase in reports of crop and damage. Corn didn't move far but maintained a steady undertone.

Wheat closed 3/4 to 1 cent lower, September $1.92 1/2, Oct. $1.97, corn, large 33 1/2, U. S. medium 31 1/2, U. S. standards 27 1/2-30 1/2, current receipts 41; flint and checks 30 1/2.

Ladies Bridge Luncheon
Held at Country Club

The Ladies Monthly Bridge Luncheon was held at the Hope Country Club Thursday, July 30, with Mrs. Hazel McNeill and Mrs. C. C. Lewis as hostesses.

The luncheon tables held arrangements of zinnias.

Eight tables of bridge were played with high prizes going to Mrs. Tom Williams, Mrs. William Rendon and Mrs. Eddie Whitman. Mrs. Fred Gresham also received a prize.

Out of town guests were: Mrs. Dale Dunn of Dallas, Mrs. Lyman Armstrong of Indiana, Mrs. B. R. Murray of Arkadelphia, Mrs. Jim Cross of Washington, D. C., Mrs. L. B. Wright of Texarkana, Mrs. Tom Williams of Puerto Rico, Mrs. W. F. Broening of Little Rock, Mrs. Joe P. Black of Houston.

Coming and Going

Mrs. E. K. Russey, Mrs. Pearl Harris of Dallas, and Mrs. E. E. Hudspeth of Texarkana will be the weekend guests of their sister-in-law, Mrs. John Robins. They will attend the annual homecoming at Zion church, 4 miles north of Ozark, Sunday.

C. W. Warnack has returned to his home in Chicago after a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Warnack and other relatives and friends.

Miss Bertha Downs has returned to Tulsa, Okla., after visiting in the home of her brother, Joe M. Downs and family.

building up the American corps as fast as troops could be ferried to the front. He was unable to man a continuous battle line. He was short of everything—men, tanks, anti-tank weapons, artillery.

Walker saved the day by a defensive that amounted to a defensive. He shuttled regiments and battalions and companies around the front in a continuous razzle-dazzle, throwing the enemy off balance by magically showing strength where they least expected it.

At one time his force was so completely committed that if guerrillas behind the line had attacked his own headquarters he wouldn't have been able to summon another platoon to defend it.

"You won't find that in the books will you?" he told a correspondent later. "They would say you were crazy to fight a war without reserves. But that's what we are doing—because we have to."

His famous "stand or die" order when he created the Nakdong River defense line seemed hopeless. But Walker rode about the front like a madman, standing up in his armored jeep and gripping a hand-rail as he gave orders.

The line bent, but never broke. "The Little Bulldog" had to strain his line to the utmost by pulling out the First Marine Division, which was to land behind the enemy in the Inchon invasion on Sept. 15. His weakened army then took its heaviest blows—and still held.

The day after the Inchon landing Walker immediately switched to the offensive again and predicted the war "should quickly be over" unless the enemy was re-inforced. Did he foresee the entry of the Red Chinese? Certainly he was well aware of the possibility.

Walker smashed fiercely through the North Korean crust before him, and in the kind of pursuit he enjoyed raced clear to the Yalu River before ambushing Chinese forced him to draw back.

It is questionable whether Walker thought the later "win-the-war" offensive in November was wisely conceived—but he carried out his orders. When it was smashed, he pulled back 120 miles in an orderly retreat.

"My army isn't whipped," he said, almost wistfully. "I'm proud of the way it came out of the offensive. And we will fight again."

But death prevented him from seeing his army's resurgence, from ically, he died in a traffic accident, as had his idol, Gen. Patton. He was killed Dec. 23, 1950.

when his jeep crashed into a truck driven by a South Korean soldier. "The Little Bulldog" now sleeps in Arlington Cemetery. But his true monument is the American Eighth Army he welded in Korea.

Christianity MUST Win! CHRISTIANITY WILL WIN!

Going to church is always a step in the "right direction." The Church points to God, prayer, truth, goodness. Few church-going boys and girls ever have to go to court. There are 18 million unchurched boys and girls under thirteen years of age in U.S.A. This means 18 million children are going in the wrong direction. The Bible and police records deny children will naturally grow to be desirable characters. Parents, take them to church that they may hear and learn to fear the Lord.

Sunday School Lesson

One of the problems of present-day life and society is that of the home.

It is constantly emphasized that at the root of juvenile delinquency is poor homelife, with lack of parental guidance and control, and often serious delinquencies in the parents themselves. Nor are such parental poor illiterate and underprivileged.

Careless self-indulgent, and undisciplined parents, rich and poor, must bear their share of responsibility; but one must depreciate a common tendency to blame parents for everything. Among professional and amateur psychologists, who parade their views more in public than in classrooms, it is almost a proverbial maxim that parents are always wrong.

But even the wisest, best intentioned, and best disciplined of parents are today faced with conditions that make help and guidance in child training and the direction of youth difficult and uncertain. The finest home has to contend with forces and influences outside of the home that tend to offset all that the home can do. These outside influences have youth for longer periods than the home itself.

A more serious factor, however, is the low standards of conduct that are so widely prevalent. We live in a so-called Christian land, in which the vast number of Christian churches, Protestant and Roman Catholic, and the Jewish synagogues and temples, and institutions of other religions, ought to typify high in character and conduct.

Unfortunately without being pessimistic about it, or disregarding the actual wholesome influence of all these institutions of religion, we have to face the fact that a widespread secularism, materialism, and low morality is all too evident. And this debasement of ideals seem to have increased in recent years.

If youth was surrounded by the example and demands of Christian standards and ideals, outside of the home as well as inside the problem would not be everywhere prevalent.

Thus it seems to me, the problems of homelife, and the discipline, guidance, and shaping of the generation of tomorrow, comes down to the matter of raising the general level of society. I think we need a little more of that Puritan conscience, if we can have it without the intolerance and hypocrisy which sometimes marred its purity and purpose. At its best the Puritan conscience meant Christianity in action, and its best is badly needed in a world in which distinctions between right and wrong are too often sadly blurred.
